Buck Creek youngster

Heroic local boy needs help for trip to Mexico

By Frank Ryan

Ten-year-old Jamie Platz needs your help.

The Buck Creek youngster, who is a Grade 3 student at Eldorado School in Drayton Valley, has cancer.

In the last 8½ years he has handled an unbelievable 68 operations.

But, he can't take it anymore. No more operations, no more radiation and no more chemotherapy.

As a result, Larry and Gail Platz want to take their son to a clinic in Mexico which has been offering treatment using vitamins and diet.

The trip and a three-week stay at the clinic is expected to cost between $12,000 and $15,000.

The biggest costs facing the family is $8,750 for the actual treatment and another $2,146 for accommodation. The Platz's have been offered an in-suite at the hospital, however, they are not sure if the price quoted includes their food.

Another major cost will be additional vitamins that are not available in Canada.

Through the efforts of Edmonton broadcaster/journalist Eddie Keen, Continental Airlines will provide tickets for Jamie and his mother. The father and 12-year-old daughter would also like to be with Jamie. And, the Edmonton Kinsmen have pledged $500.

Unofficially, about $5,000 has been raised in Edmonton through the efforts of Oilers' owner Peter Pocklington and other businessmen. Another $2,000 has been raised in the Buck Creek/Drayton Valley area.

No immediate help is available from Alberta Health, but the family is hopeful that some assistance will be forthcoming.

Howard Pearson, principal at Eldorado school, accountant Dan Baines and Fay Whatley will administer funds from the trust account.

But, to do that, financial help is essential.

Despite what the family has been through the past 8½ years, Gail Platz is overwhelmed at the response to her son's plight.

"People have been so wonderful," she says.

When the opportunity first came up to take Jamie to the clinic in Mexico, only the mother was going. But Gail Platz would feel more comfortable, especially in a strange place, if husband Larry was able to accompany them.

If you see this little boy's face, the agony he has endured is not immediately visable.

One eye is bright, one was damaged as a result of a brain tumor operation.

He speaks with enthusiasm that belies the fact he is living a day at a time.

Platz' situation has not only affected the adults who have become aware of his story, but children his own age are rallying to his side. Several school children have conducted fundraising projects from selling popcorn and kool-aid to holding a rummage sale.

It is hoped that individuals, groups and organizations will make it possible for the Platz family to go to Mexico next week.

Can we say no to a 10-year-old boy who has struggled so heroically?

Potential disaster

Bulk fuel plants pose hazard for town residents

By Frank Ryan

A very hazardous situation exists in Drayton Valley. And, it could get worse.

The situation which exists within downtown boundries is three fuel-related tank plants. Gulf is located on Industrial Road while UFA and Esso are south of Amoco.

When Amoco moves to their new site west of town this weekend, their property will be occupied by a Shell bulk plant.

One man who is very concerned about Shell's plans is Twin Pine Motel owner Bernie Schell.

The Twin Pine Motel, which will be used for the 1986 Alberta Senior Games and is a recent recipient of a Travel Alberta Good Housekeeping award, is in direct line of a fire or explosion at the Shell plant.

Bernie Schell has done some extensive research into debris and heat caused by an explosion and is most concerned over the safety of his patrons, staff and the buildings.

Fire Chief Sheldon Fuson called the entire industrial area, where Shell is proposing their bulk plant and where the motel is located, a potentially hazardous situation.

Besides the coming of a fourth bulk plant, it's an area of town that includes tanks, drums and chemical trucks.

If it's any comfort for Schell and his Twin Pine Motel customers, the fire chief says Shell's new plant will have to meet fairly stiff legal requirements.

Schell would like to see a buffer and berm around a proposed tank setup at the back of the lot, which will be less than 300 feet away from his front door.

Fuson reports that a man was burned at a bulk station incident a few years ago and the potential for 'something' to happen was there.

Two weeks ago the town installed a new fire hydrant across from the motel, but according to Schell water is not recommended for a gas fire. Foam or dry chemical is suggested.

Earlier this year a tank blew more than a mile away (in Poplar Ridge) and the effects were felt at the Twin Pine Motel.

"That shook the motel," Schell says.

"With Mobil, Dome and Amoco all moving across the highway, it seems strange to let another fuel-related industry come into town," Schell stated.

"There should be a special place for them to build," he added.

Under the permitted use of the town's bylaw for the area, temporary storage is listed under discretionary use.

Schell says the fuel will be stored on a temporary basis but the Shell plant will be permanent.

Although the Twin Pine Motel owner has never been contacted by the town or Shell, he hopes to meet with them before the sod is turned for the proposed plant.

Delay in two price system

The town of Drayton Valley has decided to delay implementing a two-price system at the Park Valley indoor swimming pool.

The town had planned to introduce the two-price system on June 1 for County of Leduc users. However, that plan has been extended to July 1.

Town manager Manny Deol informed council last Thursday that he had been contacted by the County of Leduc recreation director and the town's request for $10,000 to go toward the expected pool deficit may be coming.

Deol is hopeful the issue will be resolved before July 1.

This latest development is a complete turnabout of events.

Originally, the town had approached the County of Leduc for the $10,000 but that request was turned over to the Breton Regional Recreation Board. The county stated on several occasions that the request was out of their hands and if any money was forthcoming, it would come from the regional recreation board.

The Breton group receive $40,000 annually from the County of Leduc, but it's not enough to go around.

A lot of hard feelings have been generated over the talk of the two-price system from the approximately 500 pool-users in the County of Leduc.

Support group for parents

By Carol Dietrich

Raising children in today's complex and sometimes confusing society is one of the toughest challenges an adult has to face.

And because parenting is a profession where there is no formal training, people can run into problems.

Frank Maddock High School counsellor Jim Wolff has recently formed an informal support group where parents can come together to share problems and discuss solutions.

"Sometimes parents feel all alone," Wolff said.

"Maybe if they could just sit down and talk, their problems wouldn't be problems anymore."

Parents need to talk to other parents who have been through difficult times and had to make decisions.

"They need to make connections so some of the solutions can be passed on."

Several parents have already met Thursdays at 8 p.m. at the high school's conference room. "I would like to see some people come on a regular basis so that we can organize a program and give it a structure.

"I'll be willing to meet with parents as long as they keep coming," he said.

"Parents involved in the group are parents who are trying to be healthy and caring but things aren't working out."

They want to support each other and find answers, Wolff added.

"Explaining behavior is not excusing behavior. The majority of us as parents do the best we can.

"We don't deliberately set out to destroy our children. And we don't have to feel guilty, though we've fumbled our way through and sometimes made mistakes."

"The most important tool we (as parents) have is our expression of love.

"By the time they reach Grade 12, kids feel compelled to make choices they aren't ready for," said Wolff, "Structure, stability and expression of love counterbalance peer pressure."

Auction for Easter Seals

The scene in the Drayton Valley curling rink this Saturday will be the same in about 300 places across Canada.

An auction and garage sale hosted by Century 21 offices in town and across the country will be raising funds for the Easter Seal campaign.

Natalie Gibson, from the Drayton Valley Century 21 office said 40 local businesses have contributed to the campaign. They have collected things like a TV, barbecues, toys, a car seat for children, and gift certificates.

The auction will be this Saturday from 12 noon until 4 p.m.

Also to be auctioned off will be a car wash, inside and out, by two RCMP officers of your choice, and the services of Laurie Tkachuk as a golf caddy for one round.

She did, however, comment on the lack of items for the garage sale. Gibson stated they are still accepting any donations.

Also at the event will be a minitalent show, and the staff at Century 21 are trying to arrange for a band to perform at the sale and getting a dunk tank.

She explained they have two volunteers for the tank, if they can get it from the Edmonton company.

Town accepts two-hour parking

People's attitudes are changing over the town of Drayton Valley's two-hour parking policy.

At least that's the opinion of bylaw enforcement officer Dave Turner, who handed out 197 tickets between March 30 and April 30.

Turner told council last week that people were accepting the policy.

He also stated that there were definite signs of progress in relation to street and alley parking since he came on staff in November.

Of the 197 tickets issued, 86 were paid immediately while 24 were paid after a reminder and 15 more were paid when the offenders were presented with a summons.

Sixteen tickets are still outstanding and seven were voided.

Contract accepted

By Carol Dietrich

After six months of negotiation, teachers in Parkland Local 10 of the Alberta Teachers Association have accepted a contract for the 1985-86 school year.

"In 15 meetings since last November, we renegotiated the contract including all monetary aspects," said Wayne Donner, a spokesman for the teachers.

A vote was held in Stony Plain, as well as one in Drayton Valley. "Sixty five per cent voted in favor and 35 per cent against."

The only major change in the contract is a 1.6 to 1.98 per cent wage increase over the year.

Both sides were willing to compromise, Donner added. "Neither one wanted a strike. There was respect on both sides.

"There was no in-fighting," he said, "Both sides were determined to come to agreement."

We went through a good process, said Ken Fuhr, chairman of the negotiating committee for Parkland County.

"We got down to the nitty gritty and realized we had to reach agreement.

"Both sides were very tough, but when we parted we were friends," Fuhr said.

This contract marks a change from past negotiations. For the first year, Parkland Local 10 teachers have bargained with the Parkland County Board of Education on a one-to-one basis.

The unit represented about 12 school districts and a total of 1100 teachers, said Fuhr. "Parkland County accounted for more than half of the teachers, but still had only one vote."

Fuhr said he expects that future contracts will be negotiated just as this last one has been.

Robin gets Dykes' job

Robin Wenbourne has been appointed acting municipal secretary with the town of Drayton Valley.

Wenbourne, who had occupied the position of executive secretary, assumes the duties of Bob Dykes who is on sick leave. Wenbourne will fill the position until such time as Dykes returns or until he is scheduled to retire in October of 1986.

Wenbourne told council last week that she felt confident she could handle the workload and if Dykes returned, she would welcome the opportunity to work with him.

Government puts booze ahead of lives

What's our provincial government thinking about?

Seat belts save lives.
Drunk drivers take lives.

Eye catcher

An old style pump engine and a couple of wheels make a decorative wishing well concept. It's stopped many a passer-by along Winfield's main street.

Instead of making seat belts mandatory for Alberta motorists, the provincial government continues to side-step this very important life-saving issue.

In their wisdom, they announce changes to the liquor laws which would allow alcohol consumption in parks and picnic areas. This should increase the number of drinking drivers on Alberta highways, especially during weekends and holidays.

Our family has lived through both circumstances.

A relative in Fort St. John, B.C. is alive today because she wore a seat belt (it's mandatory in that province), after her car was totalled in a two-vehicle mishap just last week. Nineteen years ago another relative, just 16 at the time, lost his life when the motorcycle he was a passenger on was struck down by a drunk driver.

It has been suggested that the government decided to relax the liquor laws as a result of pressure from sports groups.

If that's the reason, it's disgusting.

Sports and drinking don't mix — just like drinking and driving.

We're glad to see some opposition to the recent liquor law announcement. But, don't expect our elected representatives to do very much. After all, we've been talking about seat belt legislation for years, and nothing's been done.

Century 21 Hi-Point Realty reminds everyone of their auction and garage sale this Saturday, 12 noon to 5 p.m., at the Drayton Valley curling rink.

Proceeds from the two events are in support of Easter Seals.

Natalie Gibson, who has been approaching the merchants for auction items, reports the response has been excellent. But, items are urgently needed for the garage sale. If you have items to donate call Hi-Point Realty at 542-3223.

Some of the items you can bid on include a car wash by two of your favorite RCMP members. There's also barbecues, televisions and an assortment of certificates.

It sounds like a fun way to spend Saturday and at the same time, support Easter Seals.

Province hides from Sunday shopping

By Ray Martin, MLA
Leader of the Official Opposition

To absolutely no one's surprise, the Supreme Court of Canada ruled the Lord's Day Act contravened that selection of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms guaranteeing religious freedom.

So, at a stroke, the federal law requiring major commercial enterprises to close on Sundays was thrown out. In those provinces which had failed to pass provincial laws to roughly the same effect — and Alberta is one of those provinces — the road to wide-open Sunday shopping now lies clear before us.

I believe this is fundamentally wrong, and that it's wrong for a number of reasons.

Most important to me is the belief that Albertans should be guaranteed at least one day a week when they know they will be free to spend with families. With wide-open shopping, seven days a week, that guarantee goes out the window.

As well, despite what Sunday shopping advocates claim, studies exist which show that seven-days-a-week shopping actually leads to increased unemployment — surely the last thing we need in Alberta now.

Further, many independent merchants who do business in large malls, especially in our major urban centres, are finding their malls' managements are now forcing them to open on Sundays whether they want to or not. So much for the "freedom of choice" which Sunday shopping advocates claim is their major concern.

For all these reasons, and others, on the day the Supreme Court struck down the Lord's Day Act, I proposed a law in the legislature that would ensure major commercial enterprises in Alberta closed on Sundays and statutory holidays.

Modelled closely on legislation already on the books and operating in Ontario, this law would allow small corner grocery stores, theatres, tourist businesses, farm and garden shops and similar enterprises to remain open, but would ensure the big commercial operations to shut down on Sundays.

But, I am sorry to say, the provincial government has decided on a different, cowardly approach.

Instead of screwing up their courage in the face of the Supreme Court ruling and making a decision one way or the other, they decided to hide behind the Municipal Government Act. They have said, in effect, "gosh, we just can't decide, so we'll let the municipalities decide."

At best this is going to lead to the kind of "checkerboard" patchwork of municipal ordinances that have created such chaos in British Columbia. At worst it will result, by default, in Alberta being a Sunday shopping haven, as each individual municipality decides it just can't endanger its own business base by acting against Sunday shopping while other immediately adjacent municipalities have failed to do so.

Students prepare

Graduation can be stressful

By Lynn Wight
Alberta Consumer and Corporate Affairs

Throughout Alberta, thousands of students and their families are beginning to make preparations for an annual rite of spring — school graduation!

Graduations are a celebration of academic achievement marking a student's passage out of one phase of the educational system. School graduations are usually associated with Grade 12 but, increasingly, celebrations are held for students completing junior high school as well.

Basically a happy event, graduations can also be a source of family conflict and financial stress. This situation can happen if expectations aren't discussed ahead of time.

Talk with your son or daughter clarifying their expectations and outlining their responsibility for paying some of their graduation expenses. In your discussion consider the following costs.

Some graduation expenses are hidden and begin well in advance of the event. These costs include the money parents spend on the miscellaneous fund-raising projects organized by students. Projects may include car washes, bottle drives, the sale of fruit, nuts, candies or greeting cards, and bake sales where you can find yourself buying the chocolate chip cookies baked in your very own kitchen!

When you think about graduation, the first expense that probably comes to mind is the ticket for the graduation dance. Add to this, the cost of a corsage or boutoniere and perhaps a hairstyling. But there are other expenses.

What about clothes? You may get away with spending as little as the cost of cleaning something already owned by your son or daughter. You may have to purchase new accessories, or you may face the expense of an entire new outfit. Clothes for graduation can be an emotional issue for students. They'er vulnerable to peer pressure and want to "fit in", no matter what the cost — so this is denfinitely an expense that needs to be discussed.

Consider, too, whether anyone else in the family needs something new to attend the formal graduation exercises. Also, at some schools, parents are invited to attend the graduation dance. So if you plan to attend, add the cost for your clothes, tickets and flowers.

There are other miscellaneous expenses associated with graduations. In some schools, academic caps and gowns are worn for the graduation exercises and a rental fee is charged. It's also common for photograph sessions to be arranged for graduating students. Usually, a fee is charged for the sitting. The cost of the photos depend on the size and number of prints you order. If you plan to take some pictures yourself, add the cost of the film and processing to your list of expenses.

The school yearbook may hold special sentimental appeal for graduating students. Add the price of the yearbook plus the cost of any other school-related memorabilia.

Finally, remember the cost of graduation gifts you may plan to buy your son or daughter. Perhaps too, you're planning a party or a family dinner at home or at a restaurant to mark the occasion. Add it all up and plan ahead for a no-surprise, happy graduation.

Army of alcoholics in Alberta could increase from new law

By Douglas Russell, President
Alcohol-Drug Education Association of Alberta

A bill now before the Alberta legislature would make alcohol even yet more available.

Drinking would be permitted in parks and stadiums, breweries could establish their own pubs, and private business would be allowed to operate wine stores.

Between 1950 and 1983 liquor outlets in Alberta have increased from 577 to 4,698. During the same period alcohol consumption has exactly doubled. It is estimated that Albertans, 15 years of age and over, now drink on an average the equivalent annually of 799 beers, (or 116 bottles of wine, or 47 bottles of liquor).

Impaired driving convictions in this province now run at about 25,000 a year, and about 200 people are killed in alcohol-related highway accidents. An unbelievable 10,000 people a year are hospitalized with alcohol-related illnesses, and alcohol is a factor in one out of every 10 deaths in Alberta.

Besides, we have an army of alcoholics and problem drinkers estimated at 350,000. If our situation compares to that of the United States, the use of alcohol is costing the public more than $2 billion dollars a year above all government profits.

Governments rightly track down any substance that is even suspected of causing cancer. Alcohol is a dangerous, toxic substance that causes alcoholism, cirrhosis of the liver, irreversible damage to the brain and heart muscles, and is a factor in more than 1,000 deaths a year in this province. Yet our government proposes to make it more available.

The Solicitor General says the suggested changes in the liquor laws are "progressive". Progressive to where?

After completing a recent major research project on the drinking problem, in collaboration with seven countries, the World Health Organization has recommended that governments clamp down on the availability of alcohol. In spite of the research, our government is taking the opposite course and proposes to increase outlets.

The Alberta government has recently called in the liquor trade to consult with them in a review of the liquor laws. Neither the government nor the trade want to make sudden radical changes that would cause a public reaction, so they make little compromises that will eventually get them to the same place.

Wine and beer in grocery stores, and possibly turning the liquor stores over to private business are down the road aways, just as soon as the public will stand for it.

It is time for the people of Alberta, who do not want more killing on the highways, more taxes to pay to help pick up the pieces, and more heartbreak and heartache as a result of drinking, to speak up.

Politicians are vote-conscious people, and we ought to keep them that way. One of their balancing acts is to keep a feel of public opinion. They do pay attention to letters, phone calls, letters to the editors, and phone-in programs. If they hear from the people who are interested in making money out of liquor — and they do — and do not hear from the people concerned about all the damage it does, it is easy to see which way we are going to go.

Funding issue

Drayton Valley may not host 1986 Senior games

By Lorne Christensen

Drayton Valley may not be hosting the 1986 Alberta Senior games.

It was decided by the host organizing committee when they met last Wednesday to stick with an earlier request for additional funding. This request for funding is over and above the $125,000 already promised.

The committee has requested that the province pick up the $65,000 difference in the food and accommodation bill between Drayton Valley and Camrose. And, they want a second $25,000 legacy that Camrose got last year for the games.

Max Gibb, executive director for the Alberta Sports Council (ASC), told the meeting that he was not optimistic about their request.

"The town doesn't want to pick it up and neither do we," Gibb said in pointing out five other alternatives.

First, the town could look for additional funding which would include asking the ASC for more funding. This would also include reviewing the games' budget.

The second alternative would be to reduce the number of athletes attending the games from the projected 900 down to 600. This proposal was informally turned down.

The next alternative Gibb proposed was to run the games in two shifts. This would mean about half of the athletes would come in for two days and then leave with the other half coming in for the next two days.

Max Gibb from the Alberta Sport Council.

This was also not well received as it was pointed out this alternative would cause some additional problems.

The fourth alternative brought up was to obtain beds in classrooms which would help solve some of the accommodation problems.

The fifth proposal was that Drayton Valley not host the games and they be awarded to another centre.

Mayor Bob Mayhew reinforced the town council's position saying they would not underwrite the cost.

But Gibb also pointed out he didn't think the ASC would reconsider their position.

Gibb added that they were prepared to work with the town but if all else fails, then the fifth proposal, to move the games, would not be that bad.

Gibb reminded the organizing committee that they could move the games to another center "with honor."

He said it would be better to move the games if it was in the best interest of everybody.

Gibb said he will be meeting with the board of the ASC on May 30 and 31 and will get back to the committee with their position.

A decision on whether Drayton Valley will host the games will be made by town council after the end-of-May meeting of the ASC.

Council news

Administration to get tough with volunteers

The town of Drayton Valley wants to get tough with the volunteers who sit on their various boards.

Administration introduced a policy last week that stated that a member of a board or committee shall not miss more than two consecutive meetings to a maximum of three in any given year. If this happens, council is to be notified and reserve the right to terminate that person's membership on the board or committee.

Councillor Howard Olsen had trouble with the policy. He was concerned about the person who might be working in the field and unable to get to a phone to let the board or committee chairman know it was impossible to attend.

Tom McGee didn't like the 'get tough' policy on the people who volunteer to serve on the board. He suggested the board chair-people tell their members of the policy.

Claire Carefoot said it was extremely important to attend meetings. "I missed two recreation board meetings, one due to sickness and the other meeting in Lethbridge, and I was really lost," Carefoot stated.

Acting mayor Charlie Miner said he had mixed feelings about the legislation and suggested tabling the matter. It will be discussed at the town's next government services meeting where it will hopefully be talked out.

Masonic Lodge asks to lease reserve

The Drayton Valley Masonic Lodge has town council thinking.

In a letter to council last week the lodge asked to lease a parcel of land north of Amoco, that is currently classed as municipal reserve.

The lodge stated they were looking for land where they could put a building, after they were asked to vacate the Scout Hall where they had met for the past 25 years.

The group has acquired the Amoco Safety Hall and would like to move it onto the municipal reserve, which is north of Amoco's present site in town.

However, a lot of red tape is involved.

Even if the town was to okay a lease agreement, and they haven't yet, it would need the blessing of Municipal Affairs.

Councillor Howard Olsen stated that the property in question has no particular use, but that he had problems with the request.

"If we allow one on a municipal reserve, all the other lodges in town would have the right of request," Olsen remarked.

Councillor Tom McGee suggested the town enter into an agreement to sell the property to the lodge. And, at the same time, suggested the town look into taking the municipal reserve off the land.

Bill Paniec thought the lodge was doing the town a favor by taking the land off their hands.

"I don't like to shoot them down," Paniec stated.

In order to work out the details, Paniec introduced a tabling motion. It was passed by a count of 5-1 with Olsen voting against the motion. Olsen had called for the request to be turned down in light of the possible 'can of worms' it might open.

New county supported by group

The Yes Group, Western Ratepayers will hold a meeting tonight (Wednesday) at 8 p.m. in the committee room at the Elks Hall in Drayton Valley.

Anyone interested in the formation of a new county is invited to attend.

The group met in April, at which time a letter was sent to Municipal Affairs Minister Julian Koziak outlining their position and urging full co-operation between the government and local residents.

The Yes Group was formed in response to the provincial government's municipal feasibility study now underway and expected to be completed later this month or in early June. The study, being conducted by the Department of Municipal Affairs, will outline the financial viability of a new municipality based on specific study areas and tax assessments.

"If we don't stand up now, we'll never see this become a reality," says group chairman Bob Booth.

"The time has come — and it's probably long overdue for us to be taking our destiny into our own hands," Booth has stated.

Missionary

South Pacific bound

Anita Ford

Anita Ford of Entwistle has been accepted to serve on a work/witness team in the Phillippines this summer.

The 20-year-old Ford is an alumnus of Mission Outreach in Bethany, Missouri, having served on a team two years ago. She is also on full-time staff as a darkroom technician.

On June 23 Ford will join 19 other teammates and four adults at the Mission Outreach training centre. There, she will be among 300 high school and college young people from the United States and Canada, ages 18 and up, on 16 teams who will undergo 10 days of intensive training for their summer assignments. The summer missionaries will learn survival skills and how to share their faith in Jesus Christ.

Mission Outreach is an interdenominational faith and non-profit mission that sends youth work/witness teams during the summer and winter around the world to help establish mission organizations.

Kwas resigns

Jane Kwas, chairman of the Drayton Valley Recreation Board for the past five months has resigned.

Kwas informed town council last week following an announcement that her husband had taken a job in Calgary with Esso Resources.

The four-year residents of Drayton Valley will be leaving July 1.

Kwas was on the recreation board for two years as a director before accepting the chair-person's job.

Vice-chairman Chris Kelly is expected to fill the recreation board.

Consultant hired

Council announced last Thursday that Dick Nobbs of Stettler, who has worked for the town in the past, had been hired for three or four months. His salary was not made public.

Council wants Nobbs to deal with the provincial government on such matters as highway access to the site and approach people who may be interested in relocating to the property.

"It takes a lot of money to service that property," town manager Manny Deol remarked.

"We need buyers first," Deol added in defence of the project.

Tae Kwon-Do

Self defense to self-confidence

His dream is to win an Olympic medal or train an Olympic winner.

But for now Nelson Silva is content with teaching Tae Kwon-Do to the growing number of people that have become interested in the "self-defense" sport.

Silva is coming to Drayton Valley twice a week to instruct local people in this unique art of self-defense.

The former member of the Canadian national team has been involved in the sport for about six years. The native of Chile came to Canada in 1977 and has since competed at several international tournaments.

His most recent appearance was in an international competition between Canada and Korea in 1984 in Edmonton. At this competition Silva was beat out by the Korean champion.

But Tae Kwon-Do is more than just a competitive sport to the former instructor at NAIT. He started Nel's Tae Kwon-Do School in Spruce Grove in May of 1984 and now goes to other communities to teach.

Silva will be teaching this self-defense art every Tuesday and Thursday at the Fitness For Life centre in Drayton Valley.

The word Tae Kwon-Do means the art of "foot and hand fighting." The sport enables a person to improve their physical fitness, cardiovascular strength, muscle strength, and endurance.

He describes Tae Kwon-Do as a quickly growing sport that teaches discipline, confidence and improves flexibility.

"You can gain self-confidence and learn control and flexibility, it is a form of self-defense."

But Silva, who took four years to earn his black belt, emphasizes the power that Tae Kwon-Do gives a person.

"You can kill, but you have to control it. The worst sin you could make in martial arts would be this," he points out.

"It's the same as if you have a gun and you know how to use it."

He adds that if someone in his school abuses their ability they are kicked out.

Nelson Silva has hands that could kill but instead he is teaching his skills to others.

One of Silva's students go through their routine.

Photos and story by Lorne Christensen

Silva said he teaches Tae Kwon-Do as a sport rather than a philosophy. One of his better students recently won a gold medal in the provincial championships.

Initially, Silva says he didn't like the sport. But as he got more confident he got more satisfaction.

"I didn't expect to go to Korea," he admits.

But in Korea at the world championships he tied for third with a Yugoslavian. Silva's dream to win an Olympic medal has been put on hold while he works with his school.

He says he would lose too much to try for the Olympics.

Because of all the pressure of running a school Silva said he doesn't have enough time to make a commitment to win the national title, a step towards the Olympics.

His time is taken up by the school and the several other communities that he teaches in.

Silva also plans to demonstrate his skills at some of the area schools.

Oldtimer ball

The old-timers will be swinging their bats earlier than usual this year in preparation for the provincials.

Merle Baird, coach for the team this year said the team will not play in a league. But they will participate is several tournaments. Baird also said the team would play exhibition games.

In past years the team has not been organized until the provincials but this year with the extra practice the team should be ready.

The provincials are being held on the long weekend in August, although the location has not yet been decided.

The old-timers team will also play in a Western Canadian tournament being held in Kindersley, Saskatchewan on August 10 and 11.

Baird is optimistic about the teams' chances this year in the provincials. He points out that in the past the team has done quite well, finishing runners-up for three years.

Last year they did not make it into the medal round but they have a pretty good chance this year, according to Baird.

Oilfield ball starts

Alberta's oldest consecutive running ball league kicks off another season tomorrow (Thursday) in Drayton Valley.

The Oilfield league begins its 29th season with six teams swinging into action.

The Breton Royals travel to Easyford to take on the Colts. Meanwhile the Drayton Valley Oilers visit the Thorsby Aces and the Warburg Rams meet the D & S Drillers.

The Thorsby Aces are the only new team this year in the schedule with Lou Hostyn coaching the team.

The D & S Drillers will be coached by Larry Dancey and Alden Baird will handle the coaching duties for the Drayton Valley Oilers.

Roy Hutchinson will coach the Easyford squad while Dan Pankewitz will coach the Warburg Rams and the Breton squad will be handled by Cliff and Billy Ellis.

Games will go at 7 p.m. every Tuesday and Thursday.

Fish Derby

Local fishermen after the big one

Big fish near Drayton Valley should beware.

The second annual Rick's Summer Fish Derby is underway within a 100-mile radius of town.

Fishermen will be vying to snag the big one in hopes of claiming the prize in the pike, pickeral, perch or trout categories.

A new hidden-weight prize has been added to the derby this year. The prize will mean smaller fish can still win if they are drawn from all the entries at the end of the derby.

The winner in this draw will get a graphite spinning rod and reel while the winners in each of the other categories will receive an electric trolling motor.

The pike that was last year's biggest winner was caught in the Brazeau Dam and weighed in at 21 pounds.

The next biggest winner came in the pickerai category with a 10-pound 15-ounce fish caught in the Pembina River.

The winner in the trout section last year tipped the scales at six pounds, one ounce, and was caught in Twin Lakes.

The smallest of the winners last year came in the perch category and this fish, pulled out of Buck Lake, registered one pound and eight ounces on the scales.

So far this year the derby has about six entries with a 19-pound pike in the lead in that category and a five-pound, six-ounce brown trout in front in the trout section.

The fish can be weighed at Rick's Sporting Goods to enter in the contest and fishermen can weigh as many fish as they want during the May 4 to September 3 derby.

Civic arena problem

Miner unhappy

Veteran councillor Charlie Miner is not very happy with the situation at the Centennial Civic Arena in Drayton Valley.

"The more I see and read, I feel sick," Miner stated after viewing plans for a feasibility study on the sports facility last week.

Earlier this year council authorized the spending of $5,000 to look at the 18-year-old structure and define the problems. Council's decision to look at the arena followed a number of complaints over the lack of proper washrooms, a poor public address system and rotting puck boards.

Council was informed last week that projected costs for the study were $3,585 plus a long list of unknown costs that could push the final figure close to or over the $5,000 mark.

The study will include alternatives for the concession and change facilities, roofing and the main arena itself. It is the intent of Larrie Taylor Architect Ltd of Edmonton to check rust on the steel beams, inspection of the condition of exterior concrete block, review of storm sewer management, analysis of complete electrical system, emergency lighting and fire detection systems, checking the heating, ventilation and plumbing, and requirements for a fire sprinkler system.

At the same time the study is going on at the Centennial Civic Arena, architects will be putting together a report on plans for the old outdoor swimming pool buildings. The town budgeted $3,000 for that study.

Big jumper

Grass roofs job

Pro Howard Vickers adjusts a new piece of sod on the number one tee. Vickers said he hopes the new grass will be ready by June 1.

Volunteers needed to lay sod

Volunteers are needed by the Drayton Valley Minor Baseball Association to help lay the sod for the new diamond.

Minor ball president Mickey McDowell said they need as many volunteers as they can get to lay the sod on May 25 and 26.

McDowell said the sod will arrive on May 24 and at 10 a.m. the next morning they will begin laying it in place.

Mayor Bob Mayhew has been asked to lay the first piece of sod on the new diamond.

Hot dogs and refreshments will be supplied to the volunteers during the day.

The sod will be coming from Commonwealth Stadium in Edmonton and will be put on the southwest diamond at West Valley Park. The diamond will be used for the bantam 'A' baseball provincials that Drayton Valley is hosting in August.

The minor ball program is also looking for more support from the parents at the games.

In other minor ball news the Drayton Valley Elks mosquito team defeated the Brandette Bat Busters 9-8, with Michael Karach chalking up the victory as the winning pitcher.

On Wednesday the Brandette squad clobbered Warburg 21-3.

Fastball league

Knights lead

The Knights remain atop the Evergreen Fastball League after knocking off Lodgepole 7-0 and the Denco Trees 4-3.

But the Knights lost their first game last week to the Wildcats 6-5 and now have a 6-1 record.

Sitting a half-game back in second is Breton after they defeated Buck Lake 3-1 and then the Sardine Lakers 13-6.

In third place, one game back, is the Denco Trees. They trounced the Sardine Lakers 28-0.

In other games during the week Buck Lake beat Sardine Lakers 9-1, while Lodgepole humbled the Wildcats 29-9. Also Penney's knocked off the Buck Lake Smurfs 10-3.

Thank You

Girl Guide Twin Rivers District would like to thank the Elks for their donation of the hall and to the Royal Purple for catering to our Mother/Daughter Banquet.

WE'RE WORKING TO MAKE YOUR HIGHWAYS SAFER FOR YOU...

To make highway driving in Alberta safer for you, Alberta Transportation work crews are on the job maintaining and improving existing highways and building new ones.

Please slow down whenever you see us out there. We wear bright reflective safety vests and safety helmets so you'll know who we are, why we're out there, and most importantly so you can spot us in plenty of time to slow down.

On major construction projects and other on-highway work, we'll have a flagperson who will direct you safely through or around the construction sites. And signs will give you plenty of warning that you are approaching a work site — instructing you to REDUCE SPEED, telling you MAXIMUM SPEED LIMITS, advising you that MEN AND EQUIPMENT ARE WORKING. Please watch for them. It is against the law to disobey highway signs and ignore flagpersons.

We're working hard to make highways safer for you and we'll do our best to minimize any inconvenience to your travelling plans. Please make the highways safer for us too. Slow down.

Write up plans

Week for travelling and entertaining

A Farm Wife's Almanac

by Joanne Benger

We are in first quarter, the time for fresh starts.

The cheapest animals are bought now, too.

And since we are in the witty sign of Gemini, this is the time to write up plans for your new projects or to make tentative offers.

May 23-24 finds us in the fruitful water sign of Cancer when plants are seeded for abundance. Plant corn, grain, and leafy green vegetables. Plant flowers, herbs, and all plants that are grown for their leaves. Some say all plants that are grown for edible parts that are above ground may be planted with confidence now. Set out transplants.

Chicks or animals that see their first light of day during a fruitful sign with an increasing moon should do well. Since the cheapest animals are bought during First Quarter, buy any that are born now and you will get more than you paid for.

Apply chemical fertilizers to your fields or garden.

May 25-27 will find us in the regal sign of Leo. This is the weekend for travelling and entertaining with style. Wear your most sophisticated clothes and air your finest linens. Be queen for the day. Enjoy the best.

First Quarter is a time for beginings, a time for hunches, intuitions and new thoughts about your identity and possible changes. It is a time of germination, a time for planting on the emotional and intellectual levels. Trust inner feelings and by Full Moon, your half-formed plans should be clear.

If you share your plans with others, motivations may be questioned. There may seem to be a lack of rationale. Carry on, however, and all will soon be understood. The 27th we move to Second Quarter.

Whose lucky week is it?

May 22 to June 21, this year as every year, our luckiest sign is Aquarius and this week the luckiest birthdays fall between Jan. 21 and 28 until the 27th and between Jan. 29 and Feb. 6 the rest of the week.

The lucky number to remember is three. Use it in all money matters.

Important days this week

May 26 is Whitsunday, named White Sunday originally, for it was the traditional day to baptise new Christians who were clothed in white for the ceremony.

Eat gooseberries at Whitsun and you'll make wise decisions throughout the year ahead.

Whitsun ale should also be drunk for a lucky year ahead.

The French believe that prayers offered before sunrise on Whitsunday are sure to be answered.

Drilling and pipeline permits up from last year

A record could be set in the number of drilling licenses issued in the Drayton Valley area.

Last year the ERCB issued a record 524 licenses to drill and this year they are ahead of last year's record-setting pace.

Jim Reid, the ERCB's assistant area supervisor, said that in the first three months of 1985 there were 140 drilling licenses issued, which is up over last year's rate.

In addition to the increase in drilling licenses the ERCB also reported an increase in pipeline permits. In the period from January to April pipeline permits totalled 125. This is up from the 106 issued last year in the same time period.

The area that the Drayton Valley office covers goes from Stony Plain to Hinton and the B.C. border, then south to Alder Flats and along the Brazeau River.

This increase in activity, which is being attributed to the new federal energy policy, is giving at least one local oil company an optimistic outlook.

Wayne Heth, the district supervisor for Amoco, said they are very pleased with the progress so far. But they are now waiting to see what the province will do.

Heth said they expect some news out of the province before July 1 on the issue of royalties.

But Heth adds that despite the progress they are waiting for the opportunity to sell more gas.

Dance for Heart next week

Fitness For Life is sponsoring a Dance For Heart in Drayton Valley.

Linda Watson of Fitness For Life said the proceeds for the dance, to be held May 29, will go to the Alberta Heart Foundation.

People can pick up sponsor sheets from the Fitness For Life gym. The idea of the event is for people to dance for three hours and to collect donations in relation to their endurance.

She commented Dance For Heart events have been held in other parts of Alberta as well.

Watson said the gym is donating its time to the event because it has the facilities and the personel.

The event is advertised as an "exercise session" and Watson said people should be in fairly good condition, but added people who cannot do the full three hours should still come out because every cent helps the cause.

The music is being supplied free by Property Of, a band from the Drayton Valley

The dance will be from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. and anyone is welcome to come and cheer on the dancers.

The Council of the County of Parkland No.31 intends to construct six portable classrooms and one connecting corridor as follows:

1. Four portable classrooms, cost $200,000 and a connecting corridor, cost $40,000 at Broxton Park School in Spruce Grove SD No. 450.
2. Two portable classrooms, one at Graminia School in Graminia SD No. 1813 and one at Eldorador School in Drayton Valley SD No. 3138, each costing $52,000.

By Dorothy Domke
339-2470

A special meeting of the Tomahawk and District Club met May 8 to plan the annual July 1 community festivities.

A very active and optimistic group has tentively set plans and hope to make this picnic one of the best Canada Day celebrations ever.

Preliminary plans include a parade at 11 a.m. Categories are commercial, service groups, cars, horses, bicycles, tricycles and private individual entries.

Tomahawk News

Fastball games of various types including kiddies under 11, kids under 15, novelty and a slowpitch tournament are also in the plans.

Novelty events including kiddies' races, horseshoe tournament, fish pond, tug-of-war and pay n' pitch, and concessions will be held.

Special events requiring pre-registration include greased pig catching, greased pole climbing, zump throwing trophy, kiddies' chicken scramble and a dump tank.

There will be a family barbecue 5 to 6:30 p.m.

More information will be forthcoming in the following weeks. Volunteers and participants requiring information are asked to call Joe, 339-3969 (evenings)Lynda, 339-2373; Dave, 339-3930 (evenings); or Alma at 339-3933.

Town brochures

Price tag isn't the answer

The town of Drayton Valley would like to sell their pins and brochure promotional material.

In order to control the distribution of promotional material, administration asked council last Thursday to ratify costs for pins and brochures.

It was suggested that town pins, orders of one to nine sell for $2 each, while demands for 10 and over be $1.50 each.

With the exception of a complimentary town brochure for each business in town, it was suggested to sell these for $1 each.

"I really have a problem with the idea of selling the brochures. Isn't the idea to get the brochure out so people will learn about our town?" Councillor Claire Carefoot led off a heated discussion.

Councillor Bill Paniec thought the policy had some merit if it was to define the difference between business and just plain handouts.

Tom McGee said he wasn't all that happy with the policy, but something was needed.

Veteran councillor Howard Olsen said the policy would stop the kids' demand for brochures and he felt the matter could be handled properly by administration, who could give out a free brochure where interest in the community by industrial or commercial enterprise is shown.

Town manager Manny Deol said he was always getting calls for pins and brochures.

"We don't know how to handle the situation," Deol confessed to council.

Councillor Charlie Miner said he didn't agree with selling the material.

"I enjoy looking at brochures. I like to know about different areas," Miner stated.

"Putting a price tag on it isn't the answer," Miner added.

Carefoot suggested the town look at purchasing a cheaper pin for promotional purposes.

In order to examine the matter further, it was tabled.

1985-86 school term

St. Anthony school board hiring half-time instructor

Trustees approved the hiring of a half-time teacher for the 1985-86 school term at the May 16 meeting of the St. Anthony school board.

The move was made in conjunction with another board motion to implement a pilot oral French program for Grades 1 to 6. The program will be evaluated at the end of next year.

Each class would receive about two periods of French a week.

The board also turned down a request from the Town of Drayton Valley for $34,000 in financial assistance.

The town proposes to widen 43rd Street to the same width as is in front of the school (including the bus lane).

In its letter the town said roads would be widened to accommodate increased traffic from an eight-lane track facility planned for Frank Maddock High School.

The board felt it was not their responsibility to help pay for the project and that increased traffic in the school's area would only cause problems.

Concern was also expressed that the school may lose its bus lane.

Trustees also passed a motion urging superintendent Eugene Miller to take advantage of Education Minister Dave King's Initiation to Teaching Project.

The two-year pilot project would give a maximum of 900 Education graduates an opportunity to get actual teaching experience for 10 months.

Candidates would be paid approximately one-half of the regular wage and would be used as additional staff.

The board clarified their field trip policy stating that children who did not go on a planned field trip could still attend school and would not be sent home.

Teacher Sandra Andrews has been nominated for the Meritorious Teachers' Award. The award is given to the most deserving teacher in the joint superintendency of Wetaskiwin, Ponoka and Drayton Valley Catholic schools.

Classroom teaching and work within the teaching staff are judged, the former accounting for 75 per cent and the latter for 25 per cent.

The open house-information exchange meetings were announced by the Hon. Don Sparrow, Associate Minister of Public Lands and Wildlife.

The first public meeting will be held at the Royal Canadian Legion in Drayton Valley on Tuesday, June 11. The open house will be held from 3 to 6 p.m. with an information exchange beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The second meeting wil be held on Wednesday, June 12 in the community centre at Alder Flats with the open house in the afternoon starting at 3 p.m. with the evening meeting at 7:30 p.m.

A meeting is also set for June 13 at St. Matthew's Church in Rocky Mountain House.

The open house will be held in the afternoon and is designed to provide an informal setting for the public to discuss the draft plan with members of the planning team. Information will also be on display highlighting the provisions of the plan.

The information exchange scheduled for the evening will allow anyone from the public to make formal or informal presentations to a panel of government resource directors, who are responsible for implementation of the plan once it is approved.

"The Brazeau-Pembina plan is one of a number being prepared by the Alberta government to provide a balanced approach to the management of public lands and resources throughout the Eastern Slopes and the province," said Sparrow. "The Brazeau-Pembina plan provides use of a full range of resources while recognizing watershed and other environmental considerations."

The planning area is located to the southwest of Drayton Valley in the general area of the Brazeau Reservoir and covers approximately 2950 km² (1140 sq. mi.) of gently rolling forested land.

The planning area contains a wealth of natural resources including water, petroleum, natural gas, timber, wildlife, fisheries and recreational and tourist opportunities. Use of these resources provides a corresponding range of social and economic benefits to the residents of the area and Albertans in general.

A major feature in the area, the Brazeau Reservoir, provides hydro-electric power, flood control and water-based recreation. Exploration and development of petroleum and natural gas are significant activities in the area. The timber resources in the area have the potential to support a major expansion of the forest industry. Dispersed outdoor recreation, including hunting, fishing, camping and use of off-highway vehicles, occurs throughout the area. The eastern portion of the planning area has the potential for agricultural development.

The plan addresses the interactions between these and other resource uses. Resource management issues which are discussed include watershed protection, mineral development (petroleum and natural gas), timber harvesting, fish and wildlife management, tourism and recreation development, livestock grazing and environmental protection.

Once approved, the plan will become the Alberta government's resource management policy for the Brazeau-Pembina planning area.

Classy glass class

Stained glass instructor Kevin Lay told his class in Drayton Valley he has his first piece of work hanging in his front window.

"It's gross, there are gaps this wide (holding his fingers about a centimeter apart) and gobs of solder all over it, but I'm proud of it. It's something I made."

His class was going through frustration after frustration over cutting pieces of glass into delicate shapes instead of breaking them in the wrong place, as often happened. Or trying to get an even line of solder to form between pieces of glass to hold them together.

The students did admit they were going to continue working with stained glass on their own.

"The most important thing is the cutting," Lay commented, "I've been telling my students that for seven weeks."

Lay had been teaching the class on Saturdays to a group of adults who registered for the course. During the time they spent in the Frank Maddock High School classroom, where Lay is also the custodian, they did four projects with glass.

"This is called stained glass, but is more properly called colored glass art," said Lay. Stained glass, he explained, is just that, staining glass. You paint on glass and then put it in a kiln where the paint fuses to the glass.

Most of the glass he uses comes from the States, and comes in many styles.

Lay said people can consciously comprehend in their mind about 300 colors, but there are 2500 to 3000 colors available in glass. And he added there are a lot of textures as well.

The best glass comes from France, where it is made in the old way of blowing a large bubble of molten glass and cutting it into sheets. Called "antique" glass, its color is of much better quality but in smaller sheets than the mass produced glass more redily available, he said.

"This is about the right size" for a class, he said, looking at his five students. He explained he spent most of his time running from student to student to give individual help. A class much larger than this would difficult to handle.

The 24-year-old instructor began in Edmonton where he worked and taught for a few studios.

He also ran his own stained glass business, "sort of a back yard operation," he said.

Leaning over a students shoulder, he said "solder is like water," it runs down cracks very fast. He compared it too trying to pick up a bit of mercury.

Lay said he is definitely running another course in the fall.

"Train Don't Strain" philosophy

Massage limbs with ice cubes to avoid heat stroke

By Russ Kisby
President of PARTICIPaction

Your heart pounds, your temperature soars to 106 but you don't perspire. You lose consciousness and your skin turns colors — from flushed to ashen to purple.

You've got heat stroke and minutes count!

You've overexerted! You knew you shouldn't have gone jogging at noon in the full summer sun! Now your body's heat-regulating system has quit! Your hypothalamus no longer sends chemicals to activate the sweat glands! If someone doesn't get your clothes off and plunge you into a cold bath — not iced, just cold — and sponge you and massage your limbs with ice cubes, then cover you up when your body temperature has sunk to 102 — well, heat stroke can be fatal!

Ah — you're lucky! Somebody called an ambulance! The doctors will treat you then insist you stay in the hospital for several days to recover!

You'll get a second chance to exercise this summer — and this time you'll be smart!

You'll exercise in the cool of the early morning or the evening.

You'll rest in the shade every half hour for five or ten minutes.

You'll drink water before you exercise and regularly while you work out. You won't wait to get thirsty — that's too late.

You'll salt your drinking water if you're going to be active a long time. You sweat away salts, upsetting your body's electrolyte balance.

You won't be a "hero" — pushing yourself farther than you instinctively know you should go. At the first sign of fatigue or headache, you'll slow down.

If your pulse races and your breathing quickens, you'll rest. That's asthenia — your first warning before your body cramps and you double over with lightning in your belly. That's your second warning and you should be savvy enough to press, not knead, the muscle, drink a little salt water and knock off for a day or two. Why push your luck — run another half mile and maybe you'll vomit, faint — heat exhausted!

Gold rush fever struck adventure lover

By Donna Haukedal

Douglas MacDougall was born at Gordon Creek in Quebec in 1893.

His father, a riverman on the Ottawa River became struck with 'gold rush fever' and decided to join the many others in the hope of striking it rich in the Yukon.

However, problems among the group caused them to go only as far as the Liard River. Two years later, when Doug was seven years old the family joined Mr. MacDougall in Edmonton.

At that time Edmonton was known as Strathcona and Alberta wasn't to become a province for another five years.

Edmonton's first bridge (Low Level) was just being built and Doug remembers being nervous about crossing on the water-covered ice with a team of horses and all their belongings.

Outside of walking or horseback, the only means of transportation west of Edmonton was by river. Doug's father used this route to come west to work in logging camps and find a homestead east and south of Tomahawk, later known as Burtonsville. His only neighbors were of mixed French and Indian blood and spoke French, Cree and English.

The family stayed in Edmonton so the children could attend school. Doug says he bought a horse for $25 with money he earned on a paper route.

Doug made his debut in the lumber business when he and his brother Clive went to work for the D & R Fraser Lumber Co., to bring a boom timber raft from Rocky Rapids to Edmonton. They were paid five dollars a day and boarded themselves.

They had to build glance booms in areas called snyes, which, as I understand them, are areas along the river in which logs can become trapped as water levels lower. Glance booms were built to keep the logs from going into these places. The log boom rafts they delivered were about 200 feet long and 14 feet wide, and were steared from the rear.

When they reached Edmonton, Doug remembers going to a restaurant and sitting next to a man who ordered prunes. As prunes had been desert for the brothers for the past month, Doug felt the gentleman could have ordered something better than prunes!

Doug MacDougall was born in 1893.

Doug's first job in a lumber camp (owned by Charlie Croply) was across the river from Drayton Valley. Gold was also being panned along the rivr and some prospectors did quite well.

In 1915 there was a terrible flood. Adventure-loving Doug suggested to a teacher who boarded with them that they go for a ride on the river on an old scow. This proved more of an adventure than anticipated when they ended up being dumped in the swift, muddy river. To save themselves, they managed to grab tree trops and other debri as it came down the river and ended up being able to climb a spruce tree.

While up in the tree the young men saw Doug's father and brother who had come down to check their sawmill and lumber.

Doug called to his father, who sent his brother on a raft of slabs to rescue the two.

Later that year Doug did some surveying in the Fort McMurray district. Following this he joined the Royal Canadian North West Mounted Police. Most of that year he spent driving a team for the superintendent and his wife in Edmonton.

Barely out of the police force, he was called to serve in the army during the last year of WW1. Before going overseas he received no training except what he got in the police force. Yet he became involved in some of the most active fighting of the war.

"It was just before the end of the war. I finished it," said Doug, whose sense of humor is always present.

When Doug was told he would be number two on the Louis gun he told them that he didn't know anything about this "war stuff". "Okay, we'll go to a quiet place in the line," he was told. "Be damned if we didn't hit one of the worst battles of the war", says Doug.

He was told he had too much to carry and should throw away his rifle.

"Do you want me to go in front of the whole German army barehanded?" he asked. He tried to continue carrying the whole load for awhile and was again told to throw the gun away. If he wanted one he could pick one up.

Doug discovered this sooner than he expected.

About an hour later shells hit amongst them and cut the number one gunner's leg off at the knee. Doug yelled for the stretcher-bearer, and from then on he carried that man's gun until the end of the war.

Another time they were alongside of a canal. German soldiers were on the opposite side and were so close they could hear them whispering. They were throwing hand grenades that Doug's group thought were meant for them. But instead, the intention was to blow up a foot bridge.

When Doug returned home he married his wife Dorothy and they moved to a farm near his father's land. In 1925 they built on the land where he still resides.

They had three children; Eleanor, who died three years ago, Donald of Victoria, B.C. and Malcolm, living on the home place.

Doug and Dorothy celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary last November. Dorothy has spent the past three years in a nursing home in Stony Plain. They have eight grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

Thanks to Vivian Schmidt at Barrhead for all the Wild Rose rodeo information.

As we all know, rodeo is a dangerous sport.

Dusty Cooper, a four-year pro bull rider from Caroline, was stepped on in the middle of the back and suffered a punctured lung at the Stavely rodeo. He will be out of action until the end of June.

Strawberry cake for Purple Day in June

By Hazel Winfield

The Wildwood OORP held a special meeting May 2 in the Wildwood Hall Annex.

Six ladies were initiated into the order.

Arrangements were made for a lodge workshop to be held June 7 at 7 p.m. in the Wildwood Senior Citizens' Centre.

Royal Purple Day is June 5 and the ladies will hold a strawberry shortcake tea in the Senior Citizens' Centre from 11 a.m to 3 p.m. They will also be cleaning windows for seniors in the Rosewood Manor.

The next meeting of the OORP will be June 20 which will be past Honored Royal Ladies' night.

Many turned out to play sheet bingo in the Wildwood Hall.

Wildwood News

More than 100 relatives and friends were at the community hall to help Nick and Mary Kichon celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary.

Clean-up at the Senior Citizens' Centre was completed. Several of the members raked the yard and trimmed the trees.

June Ife and Hazel Winfield attended the seniors' crib tournament at McKay.

Mrs. Soloduka, a former resident of the Granada district, passed away recently.

The Bill Stone family have moved into the new developement in Wildwood. Welcome back.

Grades 1 to 6 put on a concert in the Wildwood school which was well attended. The Spruce Grove gymnastic group were very good.

The senior citizens' meeting is Wednesday, May 22 at 2 p.m. in the Senior Citizens' Centre.

Around the Province

Taxes up

For the first time in four years property taxes in Whitecourt are going up. The increase represents about $36-a-year for the average bungalow owner.

Mayor resigns

Bruce Tremblay has resigned as mayor of Calmar. An inability to fulfill the duties of the office, coupled with a claim of personal conflict, were given as reasons for Tremblay's decision. He had been mayor of Calmar for 4½ years. Louise Rumbles is the town's acting mayor.

Looking at new arena

The town council and recreation board at Barrhead has formed a committee to look at a new arena. Many people in the community like the idea of a multi-use complex.

Fire destroys Empress Hotel

The town of Lacombe has lost one of its landmarks. The 75-year-old Empress Hotel was destroyed by an early morning fire earlier this month. The fire left a shell of the town's downtown hotel. The fire, which broke out at 3:22 a.m. sent 12 occupants into the street. Damage is expected to top the $90,000 mark.

Oil in Sylvan Lake

Sylvan Lake, known as one of Alberta's most popular lake resorts, has a new attraction. A source of high quality, light crude oil has been discovered under the lake. GNE Resources of Red Deer are drilling at the lake, extending about one mile into the lake and to a vertical depth of some 1,850 metres.

Alberta Transportation

Traffic checks made locally

Alberta Transportation conducted a series of traffic checks in the Drayton Valley area last week.

Heather McLerie, a summer student with Alberta Transportation, spent nine-hour shifts in the Lodgepole, Drayton Valley and Buck Lake areas.

The annual excercise, which gives the government a true indication of the traffic, makes special note of cars, trucks, buses, recreational vehicles, single-unit trucks and tractor-trailer units.

McLerie, who will be doing traffic counts throughout the summer on Alberta highways, reported traffic on Highway 22 at the Lodgepole junction, as very steady.

Lunch in the park

Joshua Vicker (nine months), Adam Keefe (two years) and Holly Keefe (four years) enjoyed a picnic lunch in Rotary Park on Wednesday.

Alberta Agriculture

Livestock permits needed

Bob Coleman, Alberta Agriculture's horse specialist in Edmonton, reminds horse owners that they require either a livestock manifest or a horse permit to accompany their horses when transporting them to a destination, other than a market, which is more than 16 kilometres distant. Owners without either of these could be fined up to $50.

Horse permits are available from local brand inspectors who inspect the horses and issue a permit at a cost of $1 per horse. Livestock manifests are available from district agriculturists, brand inspectors and the Horse Industry Branch, 9th Floor, O.S. Longman Building, 6909-116 Street, Edmonton, AB, T6H 4P2, or 205, 2003 McKnight Boulevard, Calgary, AB, T2E 6L2.

Bono's Astro-Vue

Week of May 26-June 1

© By Lillian Bono

ARIES

(March 21-April 20) Don't get discouraged by an unusually slow period. By midweek, things will pick up and the momentum will keep increasing. Don't lose sight of your true values.

TAURUS

(April 21-May 21) Your principles will be challenged in a very subtle way. Think before speaking. An arbitrary decision may cost you a great deal.

GEMINI

(May 22-June 21) A reward will come your way and lift your spirits. Spread your good cheer with those around you. Your wit and patience will be of great value this week.

CANCER

(June 22-July 23) You tend to exclude those close to you. Try to pay more attention to the feelings of others. Your good-nature will shine when you help out a friend in need later in the week.

LEO

(July 24-Aug. 23) A positive force will take over on Thursday and set the mood for an enjoyable weekend.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24-Sept. 23) You may feel the need to seek advice from a friend about an important decision. Trust your instincts.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24-Oct. 23) Give yourself the benefit of the doubt and try something you've never done before. Your newfound freedom may cause you to flounder a bit. Just keep your feet on the ground and you'll do fine.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be careful not to plan something that you may regret. Your wish to please may backfire. Don't waste your time trying to console someone who would prefer to dwell on problems.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Just because you're bursting with energy doesn't mean that it's an epidemic. Understand another's lethargy and utilize your own energy in a way that will benefit you and not frustrate others.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22-Jan. 20) You will feel on top of the world early in the week. Don't let anyone bring you down. A curious problem will bring you back to earth, but it will be a productive week nonetheless.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21-Feb. 19) Loneliness accompanied by a need for passion may be a detrimental combination for you this week. Try to stay busy. Seek the companionship of friends.

PISCES

(Feb. 20-March 20) The need for independence will be overwhelming this week. Keep aspirations in perspective. Don't let your own self-importance hinder potential opportunities.
